IABD President's Welcome

My Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the 29th annual conference of the International Academy of Business Disciplines (IABD), in the "Big Easy", New Orleans, LA. I know that each of us values this unique opportunity to strengthen established ties with old friends, while creating treasured networks with new ones that hail from many different parts of the globe.

The true value of IABD is that we practice what we preach. In every aspect of the term, we are truly a melting pot of numerous cultures, races, and ethnicities from all over the world, coming together to discuss important, impactful issues in a friendly and supportive atmosphere. This year, with the current political climate, it is more important than ever to reaffirm one of our organization's most basic values; the facilitation of constructive, respectful, and courteous dialogue, no matter how divergent the members' views may be. For this, and many other reasons, participants who attend their first IABD conference always seem to return and continue participating. I would like to thank all of you, for contributing to the growth of IABD, by choosing us as the forum to present and publish your influential research. We will continue to work with you in the coming years to move IABD forward while maintaining the foundation we have established as a quality outlet for your scholarly works.

First of all, I would like to recognize Our Board of Directors. Their never-ending support and sage advice have been invaluable to IABD accomplishing any of its goals. Although many of these Board members have been with the organization for over 10 years, for a few, this will be their first time serving IABD in this capacity. With their engaged leadership, I am sure they will infuse IABD with new ideas, while continuing to navigate the organization in the right direction.

I would also like to thank the heart and soul of IABD, our Track Chairs. Without our Track Chairs, there is no IABD. These Chairs also double as our editorial board, and without them, IABD would not be able to logistically complete the necessary tasks for our annual conference to take place or put a journal like the Quarterly Review of Business Disciplines (QRBD) together. You all have my undying gratitude for everything that you have done and continue to do for IABD.

As President of IABD, I am only as good as the people I surround myself with. Thus, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the following people: Dr. Margaret Goralski, for continuing level of support and dedication toward our publishing arm of IABD; Dr. Saurabh Gupta, for heading up the technological side of our operations; Dr. Cindi Smatt, for serving as Program Chair, and doing whatever is needed whenever she is asked; Dr. John Fisher, for continuing to do a masterful job putting our proceedings together; Dr. Jim Weber, for his tireless contribution as the communications liaison and Associate Editor for the Proceedings, Dr. Lou Falk, our resident historian, who allows us to honor and respect our rich history; Dr. Greg Payne, for continuing to provide energy to our conference by opening it up to students; Dr. Reza Eftekharzadeh, for maintaining our financial security; Dr. Kaye McKinzie for filling the role of Associate Editor for QRBD; and, finally, Dr. Karin Reinhard for her promotion efforts.

For many of us, IABD has become an integral part of our personal and professional lives. As we come together for our 29th meeting, please enjoy the scholarship, venue, and opportunities that our organization provides. I wish you all a very pleasant experience at the 2017 IABD Conference.

Sincerely,

Paul A. Fadil

IABD MISSION AND OBJECTIVES

The International Academy of Business Disciplines is a global, nonprofit, and non-partisan organization established to foster education in all business disciplines. The objectives of IABD are to stimulate learning and understanding and to exchange information, ideas and research results around the world. In addition, the Academy seeks to bridge the gap between theory and practice in the international marketplace.

Furthermore, we hope to create an environment where learning, teaching and research and the practice of management, marketing, economics, finance, accounting, management information systems, and communications can be advanced. Our main focus is on unifying and extending knowledge in these areas to ultimately create an integrated theory that applies across national boundaries. Membership in the organization is open to scholars, practitioners, public policy makers, and concerned citizens who are interested in advancing knowledge in various business disciplines and related fields. More information is available on home page of IABD at www.iabd.org.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

To all our supporters and host organizations we express our thanks and appreciation. We hope that you will continue your support of our volunteer organization. With your continued help and cooperation we will build one of the most respected organizations in the profession.

We extend acknowledgments and thanks to all participants who submitted their work and supported IABD activities leading up to the 2017 conference. We also thank all those who have provided us with their professional contributions such as reviewing papers, chairing sessions and serving as discussants. And more importantly, we acknowledge the herculean contribution of our track chairs. They are one of the most important groups in IABD. Truly, there would be no IABD program without the hard work and dedicated efforts of the track chairs.

ALL ACADEMY SESSION

Presentation Title: The Pleasures and Pitfalls of Teaching Online

Date: Thursday, April 6th, 2017

Time: 3:30 P.M. – 5:00 P.M.

Location: Freret

Presentation team: Louis K. Falk, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley
Margaret Goralski, Quinnipiac University
Ahmad Tootoonchi, Frostburg State University

In general, teaching requires one to have the knowledge of the subject matter, clear understanding of the learning objectives, and the ability to utilize suitable teaching approaches. However, none of these factors really matter, if the instructor does not make a deliberate and determined effort to develop mastery of the methods that he/she uses to deliver the course-content (online, face-to-face, or hybrid).

In recent years, online teaching has become one of the fastest growing phenomenon in higher education, which makes course delivery a huge challenge to faculty; especially faculty who have been delivering classes using the traditional face-to-face model for most of their careers.

In this interactive workshop, the presenters share advantages, disadvantages, as well as success and failures associated with online programs. The floor will be open for the participants to share their own experiences and suggestions.

Please join us, so we can learn from one another and benefit from each other's experience!
